J O C K

On December 3rd, 1960, the Canadian Group of Painters lost one of its most esteemed members in the passing of J. W. G. Macdonald. "Jock" had been a member of the Group from its inception in 1933 and his contributions to its exhibitions had always been notable. We had watched the steady growth of his painting as one colourful phase succeeded another, for he was never one to stand still. With a vision always leaping ahead he painted imaginatively and richly. Then in the last few years of his life all his experience and wisdom culminated in the magnificent flowering that marked him as one of Canada's outstanding non-objective painters.

It was not only as a painter that Jock achieved prominence. He was an instructor of authority, he taught in a number of schools across Canada and for thirteen years was a valued member of the staff of the Ontario College of Art. On two occasions he was invited by UNESCO to participate in student seminars in Europe.

Jock shared himself generously with others especially with those students in whom he discerned promise. His remarkable ability to teach and to impart enthusiasm, his encouragement and his example helped to shape many careers. Many young painters who have gained their epaulettes acknowledge with gratitude his mark upon them both through his painting and through his teaching. Jock Macdonald has had a profound influence on the development of Canadian Art today. His associates will remember him with affection and pride.
